TONOPAH MUST SHOW ENTHUSIASM TO KEEP ALLOTTED PLACE ON THE MIDLAND TRAIL AUTOMOBILE MAP

It behooves the people of Tonopah to show a little ginger, else this community may loose the Midland trail, an automobile route that will bring thousands of dollars to residents of this county within the next two or three years. Finances are needed immediately that the route from Ely to Tonopah and thence west might be properly labeled with sign boards at every road junction for the benefit of the traveling autoists and this work should be carried out without delay.

Over at Ely the auto enthusiasts have started to take up a subscription to secure funds to sign board that portion of the Midland trail that passes through White Pine county, and on Saturday last nearly $200 had been secured through popular donations. The Ely residents are enthusiastic over the plan for they readily recognize the advantages to be derived through the Midland trail passing through their county. Tonopah is the next stopping place on the route after the traveler leaves Ely and this city has sufficient attractions to hold the majority of the tourists here an extra day.

S. R. Moore of this city, treasurer of the Nevada State Automobile association, which is affiliated with the American Automobile association, has received a communication from President C. G. Patrick, asking that this county immediately get busy and advocate the securing of funds, both for the erection of sign boards and also for the repair of the auto road. The state association embraces the auto clubs of Tonopah, Goldfield and Ely and communications have been sent to Reno, Lovelock, Winnemucca and Elko asking the motorists of those sections to organize and affiliate with the state association. The organization is one that will promote the interests of the entire state and the good that will be accomplished can easily be determined by any person with but little thought applied to the subject.

It is possible that the association CECILE MUNN TAKES DEPARTURE TO COAST

Cecile Munn, the pioneer businesswoman of Tonopah, departed this morning for Oakland where she will engage in business and make her future home. Her establishment, the Shop of Swellom, has been closed as the stock not disposed of during the recent sale has been packed and shipped to Oakland.

The departure of Mrs. Munn is greatly regretted by the feminine population of this camp, for during her stay here she won hosts of friends by her straightforward business dealings with the entire public. She was gifted with a keen business acumen and it is with foresight that she is locating in Oakland, a city that is fast attaining an individuality which heretofore has been lost owing to the close connection with San Francisco.

WILL ASK TAFT TO ALLOW CLERKS JOIN IN PARADE

SUFFRAGE LEADERS WANT EMPLOYEES OF GOVERNMENT TO SWELL RANKS

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Woman suffrage leaders held a street meeting today to call on President Taft to grant a holiday on March 3 to all government clerks who want to participate in the suffragette parade. The suffragists scorn the opportunity to participate in the inaugural parade if they will have to ask for an invitation to do so.

THIRD WEDDING IS PERFORMED BY JUDGE

A. L. Johnstone and Frances King were united in marriage yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the justice court, Justice of the Peace Harry Duxenath presiding. The couple are from Goldfield and arrived in this city yesterday morning.

Arrangements for the high school dance to be given at the Miners' Exchange hall Saturday night are being rapidly perfected, and indications point to the students netting a neat sum from the affair. The proceeds of the dance will be turned into the athletic fund to assist the local school in having representation at the annual academic field meet at Reno in May. Heretofore Tonopah has always managed to secure a point or two in the meet, which is attended by teams from every state high school, and with promising material in sight it is believed that the local team can make an excellent showing this year.

The dance Saturday is the first to be given this year by the high school students. A four-piece orchestra will furnish the music and a good time is guaranteed all who attend. Tickets can be secured at the leading business houses and also from the students.

ROUND MOUNTAIN STOCK ACQUIRED BY W. H. WEBBER

ALL STOCK INTERESTS OF J. P. LOFTUS TRANSFERRED TO NEW PARTIES

W. H. Webber and M. A. Evans of Salt Lake City, together with associates in Utah, have taken over all the stock interests formerly owned by J. P. Loftus in the Round Mountain Mining company and at a meeting in Goldfield on Monday Webber was elected vice president and a director of the company, taking the place on the board formerly filled by Loftus. Webber has acquired the principal portion of the holdings involved in the transfer. He has just spent a week or more at the mine, making a thorough examination of the property, and is well pleased with its prospects and its present condition.

Following the completion of the transfer, the final details of which were perfected in Goldfield, Webber stated in an interview that the Round Mountain mine is without question the greatest free-milling, low cost property in the state, the only mine that holds any promise of comparing with it in point of the character of free-milling ore and low cost being the Big Four at Manhattan.

At the present rate of blocking out ore, Webber said, the company will soon require additional milling facilities and these will in all probability be provided by enlarging the present plant, which is now one of the most efficient and economical in operation in the entire state; in fact, its operating costs per ton are considerably less than those of any other gold mining company in the state, being in the neighborhood of $4 per ton.

The mill is now treating an average of approximately 180 tons daily, the process involving merely regrinding and amalgamation, and a recovery of 90 per cent is effected on the plates.

ARBITRATION OF STRIKES OPPOSED BY SAM GOMPERS

PRESIDENT LABOR FEDERATION DENOUNCES PLAN BEFORE LEGISLATURE

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Compulsory arbitration was denounced by Samuel Gompers in a speech before the National Civic association today. He said: "The attempt to get away from strikes by the methods proposed in the New York legislature is simply an attempt to compress steam or power in a too limited space. They may do that for a while but you will have explosions from which no power on earth it potent to protect."

JURY RETURNS VERDICT AGAINST MINING COMPANY

SUM OF $2500 IS ALLOWED AS DAMAGES FOR DEATH OF EXTENSION MINER

After several hours' deliberation, the jury in the case of P. Beco, administrator for the estate of P. Derich, deceased, versus the Tonopah Extension Mining company, returned a verdict at 2 o'clock this morning in favor of the plaintiff. The suit was brought to recover $3000 for damages and $500 for attorney's fees and the verdict allowed the plaintiff $2500 for damages and the amount asked for counsel fees.

Derich met his death while employed in the Extension mine last year and the suit was brought at the result. It was claimed that the death was due to negligence on the part of the company. H. R. Cooke represented the plaintiff in the action while the defendant company was represented by F. K. Pittman.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The special committee appointed to investigate conditions at the national home of disabled volunteer soldiers at Santa Monica reported today the veterans were poorly fed and that the housing conditions could be greatly improved.

The report commends more liberal appropriations for food and better facilities for cooking. No evidence of graft or misappropriation of funds was found. Senator Jones presented with the report a bill to transfer the control of the home to the war department.

Gault Would Have Clerk Of Court Give Information Delayed Cases— Interesting Aftermath Of Fight Against Barnes' Divorce Measure.

(By Hans Durfel)
(Special Correspondence)

CARSON, Jan. 28.—The supreme court of the state of Nevada is the next body scheduled for probing by the legislature. Heretofore the efficiency and integrity of the court has never been questioned, but at the time of the special session of the legislature in 1912 the judicial dignity received a severe setback when the three members of the court were summoned to appear before the bar of the assembly and personally explain why they were entitled to $1500 each for work alleged to have been performed in the compilation of the new code.

Senator Gault of Washoe presented a resolution in the upper house today asking that the clerk of the court be directed to submit a report to the legislature of all cases under submission for a period of longer than three months, and a complete history of each case to accompany the report. The resolution is aimed to discover why matters under submission for two and three years have not

(By Associated Press)

All threatened to start a hunger strike and refused to pay fines as they would rather go to prison.

STRINGERS OF QUARTZ FOUND IN THE BUCKEYE

VALUE BEARING ROCK IS OPENED UP AT THE DEPTH OF 1200 FEET

Stringers of quartz are again appearing in the shaft of the Buckeye, east of Tonopah. Yesterday the blasting disclosed a stringer about an inch in width that is impregnated with values. A small slab of rock, showing the stringer was placed in the window of the brokerage firm of J. C. Robertson, and attracted considerable attention.

Letson Balliet, superintendent of the property, sent a specimen of the quartz to the assayers, but as yet has not received returns. The stringers were encountered at the 1200-foot point in the shaft where the work of cutting a station is in progress. Quartz was encountered in the shaft at the 1036-foot point and good values were obtained at that point. The rock encountered yesterday is similar to that found in other Tonopah properties where it has always indicated the proximity of ore bearing bodies, and as soon as the station is completed, it is the intention of Balliet to resume the sinking and determine the nature of the ground in that vicinity.

been acted upon, when the constitution of the state requires that no case can be held under submission for a period longer than 90 days. Should such a delay be caused the supreme judges are not allowed to draw their salary, but a perusal of the records in the state controller's office fails to reveal any back salary due the court.

Divorce legislation is the main topic of conversation about the capitol today. The echo is even being heard from Reno, and those who are in favor of the law are loud in their denunciation of the manner in which Gardner lost the first round of the battle. It is admitted that the adherents of an amended divorce law are in the majority, and criticism is made because Gardner forced the exposure of the strength of the divorce colony followers. The manner in which the Reno attorney handled his fight is also being criticised. Parliamentarians point out that instead of attempting to postpone the bill amending the divorce law for an indefinite period, or to strike out the enacting clause, it would have been better for the opponents of the measure to merely object to introduction of the bill. Under the course taken many points of order were made and all were overruled. Gardner lost ground steadily and his followers were discredited completely in the initial showing.

According to rumors the decisive defeat of Gardner may ultimately mean that the democrats will choose a new floor leader, for their champion failed to stand the brunt of the battle in a manner that was deserving of praise, although defeated.

A neat little scrap of the one round variety occurred in the senate today with regard to the number of copies of the bills to be printed. Several days ago Scanlan of Nye presented a resolution asking for the printing of 1000 copies of every bill, but today Senator Bell presented a resolution asking for the printing of but 500 copies of the measures. Scanlan objected, declaring that the people of the state were entitled to be informed of the nature of the measures presented to the legislature. Senator Heffernan joined forces with Bell and announced that heretofore the greatest number of bills printed was 650 during the last legislative session. Heffernan pointed out that a dry load of bills was removed from the state printing office and the legislative chambers at the conclusion of the session and he did not see why the state should be saddled with the extra expense if the bills were thrown away after printed. When the matter came to a vote the senate was unanimous, with the exception of Scanlan's vote, in supporting the resolution of Senator Bell.
